Course Catalog Description

The course provides a survey of various disabilities, focusing on history, legislation, diversity, causes, characteristics, needs, educational strategies, interventions, technologies, assessment, and support services for individuals with disabilities and families.

Purpose of Course

The purpose of the course is to enhance the knowledge of students intending to work in the fields of education, special education, and related services about the special education service system and the individuals it serves. The course provides foundational knowledge and context for understanding history, legislation, and laws supporting the educational rights of individuals with disabilities and their families, diversity in education, and the characteristics and educational needs of students with disabilities

Course Goals

- To determine the historical development of the field of special education including its philosophical basis and current professional status.
- To analyze current legislation pertaining to special education, including service delivery options, assessment procedures, development of individualized educational programs, and safeguards for parents and teachers.
- To investigate the etiology, characteristics, and prevalence of the major categories of exceptionalities and their various educational interventions.
- To assess the contributions of families to the education of students with disabilities.
- To evaluate the importance of language and cultural differences on the academic, emotional, and social development of students with disabilities.

Course Objectives

Upon completion of the course, the student will be able to:

- Describe the historical development of the field of special education.
- Synthesize current legislation focusing on special education, including service delivery options and the concept of least restrictive alternatives, the assessment and development of individualized educational programs, and due process for parents and teachers.

- Determine characteristics, causes, prevalence of the major categories of exceptionalities and their educational implications.
- Assess and evaluate the importance of language and cultural differences on the academic, emotional, and social development of students with disabilities.
- Ascertain the contributions of families and caregivers in the education of students with exceptionalities.
- Evaluate professionals that provide special education or related services
- Demonstrate knowledge of the relationship of special education to other educational programs/professionals.
- Evaluate the utility of service-learning experiences and the way in which they relate to course content.

Major Topics

History of special education in the United States; an overview of special education and its associated laws; cultural diversity and special education; universal design for instruction; individualized education programming; family-professional partnerships; educational interventions for varying disabilities categories; related service provisions.

Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, each candidate will have demonstrated the ability to effectively complete the following educational accomplishments:

Service-Learning

Alternative Service-Learning Project: Given the health and safety concerns that have been precipitated by the Covid19 virus we will be doing an alternative service learning assignment that DOES NOT REQUIRE FIELD-BASED hours. Worth 50 pts.

The guidelines for the alternative service learning assignment are as follows:

Assignment Overview

Select one program from the SITE OPTIONS LIST on our D2L page and do an in-depth exploration of it (this can be done using online resources) and write a report or create a Powerpoint slide presentation as to the respective program's purpose, origins, who they serve, and other key characteristics, and then we would compile these into a resource compendium that future students will have access to prior to their service learning placements so that they can have an understanding of who, what, where, and how. Worth 50 pts.

Format

You can be creative in this so feel free to present the information in a manner that you feel is best, but these are the essential components.

Please create a Powerpoint presentation that identifies the following components:

- a) The name of the program you selected
- b) The location of the program
- c) A web link if available for the program
- d) Provide a description and general overview of the program
- e) Provide a summary of who the program serves and any eligibility requirements of the program
- f) Describe how the program is supported/funded if this information is available.
- g) And, finally any additional information you wish to add.

Course Policies and Expectations

Classroom and Communication Policies

Email Communication

Insert email and general communication guidelines with clear requirements for students to use their official ETSU email accounts. The ETSU email policy requires all faculty communication with students regarding ETSU business be conducted via the official ETSU email account.

Attendance and Participation

Insert a thorough course attendance policy. For online courses, recommended information includes expectations that students are to be consistently active in the online course site. Examples can include frequency of checking D2L (i.e. you should login to D2L and check discussions, news, etc. at least 3 times a week), and other participation requirements through the D2L discussion board, synchronous meetings, chat boards, field work, clinical assignment, etc. Include details on how you define attendance in the online environment.

Dispositions & Notice of Concern

Students making unsatisfactory progress in a course, exhibiting unsuitable dispositions, or having unacceptable attendance and participation may be subject to departmental notification whereby the `department chair and student are informed of unsatisfactory progression. (Instructors are not required to file this notification but may use this procedure to document unsatisfactory course performance). The instructor may then formally file a "Notice of Concern" with the Department of Curriculum and Instruction and the student and request a meeting with the department chairperson to discuss whether the student should continue in the program.

Academic Misconduct Policy

As teacher candidates, students should be above reproach in matters of academic honesty. Plagiarism, cheating, or falsification or copying of assignments are never tolerated in teacher candidates. The penalties are severe. In cases of plagiarism, cheating on guizzes or the final exam, or other forms of academic dishonesty, the student receives an "F" in the course and referred to the Chair and the Dean of Students for further disciplinary action. Following are ETSU's policies on plagiarism and similar offenses: "Academic misconduct will be subject to disciplinary action. Any act of dishonesty in academic work constitutes academic misconduct. This includes plagiarism, the changing or falsifying of any academic documents or materials, cheating, and the giving or receiving of unauthorized aid in tests, examinations, or other assigned school work. Penalties for academic misconduct will vary with the seriousness of the offense and may include, but are not limited to: a grade of F on the work in question, a grade of F for the course, reprimand, probation, suspension, and expulsion. For a second academic offense the penalty is permanent expulsion. Plagiarism, cheating, and other forms of academic dishonesty are prohibited. Students guilty of academic misconduct, either directly or indirectly through participation or assistance, are immediately responsible to the instructor of the class. In addition to other possible disciplinary sanctions which may be imposed through the regular institutional procedures as a result of academic misconduct, the instructor has the authority to assign an "F" or a zero for the exercise or examination, or to assign an "F" in the course."

Academic Integrity

As teachers, we are expected to be above reproach on matters of academic honesty. We proctor exams. We grade papers. Plagiarism, cheating, and falsification or copying of assignments are never tolerated in teacher candidates. The penalties for it are severe. All students are expected to uphold the ETSU policy on academic misconduct, fulfill their student responsibilities, and have their student rights honored. Cases of suspected plagiarism and/or academic misconduct such as copying assignments, using unauthorized notes or information, and/or cheating on an exam will be referred to the appropriate ETSU administrative body for adjudication. Possible penalties range from disciplinary warnings to dismissal from the university.

Assignments and Submission Guidelines

Assumption Papers: Course participants complete a pre- and post-assumption paper at the beginning and end of the semester, highlighting perspectives, services, and interventions of/for individuals with exceptionalities and their future role in the field of special education or related services. The pre-and post-assumption papers are worth 15-points each.

Weekly Critiques of Relevant Videos: A list of You Tube video links is contained in the table of contents, we will review each video (a total of 10-covering various aspects of the course) during our Friday class sessions. Each critique is worth 5 points for a total of 50 pts. Your critique should be one-page in length and should include the following in your critique:

- 1.) Your Name
- 2.) Name of the Video
- 3.) 1-2 Major points from the video that increased your knowledge and or awareness on the topic and, how the material imparted from the video can benefit you in the future as a teacher.

These are all to be approximately one-page in length.

Movie Reviews (2):

Individuals with disabilities are often depicted in movies whether those depictions are accurate or not. Course participants will watch and analyze a movie in which a person with a disability is depicted.

While viewing the film, pay attention to any connections that can be made with issues discussed in class and in your readings. Write a 2-3-page critical analysis of the film in which you highlight the film's (1) strengths and weaknesses in terms of (a) accuracy of information, (b) realistic portrayal of people with disabilities, (c) timeliness of the message, (d) overall tone of the film and (e) include your thoughts as per whether you enjoyed the film or not.

Students are expected to consult the text and one other source to reference and support their positions. References are to be listed at the end of the paper. Each review is worth (10 pts.) for a total of 20 pts.

Some Movie Review Options

Students may select from the following films to view and or get prior approval from the instructor for a film not on this list. This is not an exhaustive list as there are many new films that would be perfect for you to review, just please give me an email me first and let me know the film that you would like to review.

- 1. The Mighty (learning disabilities and physical disabilities)
- 2. My Left Foot (cerebral palsy)

Student Services

The ETSU Services webpage includes a comprehensive list of services available to all ETSU students.

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

It is the policy of ETSU to accommodate students with disabilities, pursuant to federal law, state law and the University's commitment to equal educational access. Any student with a disability who needs accommodations, for example arrangement for examinations or seating placement, should inform the instructor at the beginning of the course. Faculty accommodation forms are provided to students through Disability Services in the D.P. Culp Center, Room 326, telephone 423-439-8346. Visit the Disability Services webpage for more information.

Technical Resources

Help Desk

The Information Technology Services (ITS) Help Desk is the best resource for most technical problems. Find answers to common questions on the Help Desk website, call, email, or stop in to see them on the first floor of the Sherrod Library. Phone: 423-439-4648 Email: itshelp@etsu.edu

Desire2Learn (D2L) Online Help

Many answers to D2L related questions can be found on the D2L Help Student Home. If you are still having trouble finding what you need, contact the Help Desk.

Microsoft Office Software

Microsoft Office productivity applications, including Word, PowerPoint, Excel, OneNote, and more, are available free for students through the University's Office 365 campus agreement. For instructions on how to obtain the software, see the Office 365 page of the ITS Help Desk website.
